The North Carolina FreeEnterprise Foundation (NCFEF) is a non-partisan, nonprofit organization that conducts impartial, objective research and analysis on candidates, campaigns, voter attitudes and demographic changes that impact North Carolina's electoral landscape.

NCFEF is a mission-driven organization, providing business leaders across the state with timely updates and information throughout the year – the Legislative Business Ratings is just one of many such reports NCFEF produces and distributes widely.

In addition, during the course of the election cycle NCFEF conducts well over 100 presentations, programs, candidate forums, and 'races to watch' briefings all across North Carolina.

All of this is made possible through the financial support NCFEF receives from a broad cross-section of businesses, associations, foundations and individuals that support our mission.

OVERVIEW

The NC FreeEnterprise Foundation Legislative Business Ratings (NCFEF LBR) report is produced following each odd-year session of the NC General Assembly (what's commonly referred to as the 'Long Session').

This analytical assessment of the business disposition of all 170 state House and Senate members is based on confidential input from a group of more than 400 business leaders, business trade association executives and government affairs professionals.

This survey pool represents a diverse cross-section of business interests, geographically as well as company size and scope, and industrial sectors.

The survey contained two parts:

- An Objective evaluation consisting of recorded votes taken where the respondent believed the subject 'presented a clear philosophical division on key issues of interest and concern to the business community.'
- A Subjective assessment in which respondents rated legislators based on their 'personal experience as to the percentage of the time that legislator was supportive on issues important to the overall business climate of North Carolina.'

Those surveyed were also asked to consider factors such as 'legislators making themselves accessible for information sharing and discussion, and maintaining a business-like approach to the conduct of legislative duties.'

Respondents made this assessment using a 100-point scale (in 10 point increments), and were asked to rate only those legislators they knew and interacted with.

The NCFEF Research Committee reviewed all Objective evaluation recommendations on votes to be considered and corresponding preferred business position, and selected those reflecting an appropriately diverse array which represent:

- meaningful issues to the business community;
- matters in which free enterprise principles were distinctly involved;
- a clear distinction of legislative perspectives on business issues.

NCFEF research staff secured voting histories from the NC General Assembly website, and matched those against the preferred position on the selected legislation to produce an Objective score representing the percentage of time a legislator voted the preferred position.

Any excused vote was not included in the calculations, but a recorded 'not voting' was considered and calculated as having not taken the preferred business position. NOTE: It is the prerogative of the Speaker of the House to vote or not vote on bills before the House, so the Objective portion of the LBR for Speaker Moore includes only those votes.

In terms of the votes selected for this analysis, finding absolute unanimity within the business community for any piece of legislation is a challenge regardless of subject matter or constituency impacted.

Many times companies within the same industry disagree on fundamental public policy issues contained within a single piece of legislation, since business models can differ widely even within a particular industrial sector.

Because the NCFEF LBR utilizes input from a broad base of individuals within the business community familiar with what transpired during the legislative session, the report avoids being simply a characterization of lobbying successes or failures. This assures the NCFEF LBR is a sincere, impartial, and unbiased evaluation of disposition and not simply a scorecard measuring a singular legislative agenda.

The methodology used in the NCFEF LBR has proven over time to best serve this organization's mission to provide objective research and analysis useful to business leaders and the general public interested in understanding the intersection of politics and the public policy that impacts North Carolina's economic vitality.

For calculation of Objective and Subjective scores to form an overall Legislative Business Rating for each legislator the following weighting scale is used:

Percent of all Votes Used that are Contested Votes*	Weighting: Subjective to Objective
80% - 100%	1:1
60% - 79%	2:1
40% - 59%	3:1
20% - 39%	4:1
0 - 19%	5:1
*Percentages of contested votes are rounded to nearest whole number.

^{*}A contested vote is when 10% or more of the legislators present and voting cast their vote opposite the prevailing vote. For example, if 50 senators are present and voting, and the prevailing vote is 'Aye,' at least 5 senators must vote 'No' for the vote to be considered a contested vote.

As both state House and Senate had 80% of votes selected by the Research Committee for consideration fall under the contested definition, a weighting of 1:1 Subjective to Objective was applied to produce a Legislative Business Rating for each member serving during the 2015 Session of the NC General Assembly.

For information on legislation and votes referred to in this report, visit the NC General Assembly website at www.ncleg.net.

UNDERSTANDING THE NCFEF LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS RATINGS

The NCFEF LBR is the average derived from the combined Objective and Subjective ratings and provides a straightforward metric: the closer the rating is to 100, the more aligned with the principles of free enterprise that legislator was during the 2015 Session.

NCFEF considers a rating of 70 or higher to demonstrate a legislator can be counted on – both in votes cast as well as general disposition on business issues and in their approach to legislative duties – to consistently exhibit strong support of free enterprise principles.

Those within this range constitute the solid base of legislators aligned on important issues that contribute significantly to preserving and enhancing the business climate and economic vitality of North Carolina.

Among those serving during the 2015 Long Session of the NC General Assembly, 80 of the 120 members of the state House fall into the solid base category – 71 Republicans, 8 Democrats, and 1 Unaffiliated. In the state Senate, 35 of 50 members fall into the solid base category – 33 Republicans and 2 Democrats.

Legislators with a rating between 70 and 55 are considered to be occasional in their support of free enterprise principles.

The state House had 22 members – 2 Republicans and 20 Democrats* – in the occasional category, while the state Senate had 4 members – 1 Republican and 3 Democrats.

Looking at just the Objective portion of the analysis, 40 state House members (34 Republicans, 5 Democrats and 1 Unaffiliated) had a 100% voting rating, as did 21 state Senate members (all Republicans).

^{*}Rep. Rick Glazier resigned his seat on August 8, 2015, and was replaced by Billy Richardson. Since both voted on matters included in the 2015 NCFEF LBR Objective Survey, both are included in this report.
